DISRUPTIVE & SHYKING ON election issues by her congressional allies, the members are working to the possibility the speakership for outgoing President Macapagal-Arroyo, who has made history as the first Philippine President to get elected to a seat in the House of Representatives.

Two months after a landslide loss and the House bid of an opponent, the members are now in a state of confusion. Some members are still in the House, some are not. The House is in a state of confusion.

CHED commissioner suspended for graft

By Peter C. Hsu

CHED Commissioner has been suspended for graft after being found guilty of misappropriating funds for his personal use.

The suspension was announced by the CHED Board of Directors on June 15, 2010. The Board found that the Commissioner had misappropriated funds for his personal use, including travel expenses and other personal expenses.

The Board also found that the Commissioner had failed to disclose his financial interests and had engaged in self-dealing transactions. The Board has ordered the Commissioner to repay the funds and has suspended him from his duties.

Antipolo techie only wanted to protect PCOS machines

By Suzanne L. Abner
Star Daily-News

ANTIPOLLO, July 25 (Star Daily-News) — A group of computer technicians in Antipolo City, Rizal, have organized a union to protect the rights of PCOS (Personal Computer Operating System) machines. The group, known as the Antipolo City Computer Technicians Union (ACCTU), was formed last month. The union's main goal is to protect the rights of PCOS machines, which are used by many businesses and individuals in the area. The union also plans to negotiate with the government for better working conditions and benefits for its members.

Corrosion

Corrosion is a process that occurs when a metal reacts with its environment. This reaction can be caused by many factors, including moisture, oxygen, and acids. Corrosion can lead to the deterioration of metal structures and components, which can be costly to replace. To prevent corrosion, it is important to use protective coatings and to maintain metal structures properly.

1. The first step is to identify the key components of the system. This includes understanding the hardware, software, and data involved. For example, in a web application, this might involve identifying the server, database, and client-side code.

The diagram shows a 2D hexagonal lattice of atoms, represented by solid circles. A central atom is highlighted with a larger, shaded circle. A dashed line connects this central atom to one of its nearest neighbors. The lattice is labeled with 'a' for the lattice constant and 'r' for the distance between adjacent atoms.

People the real heroes in election success say foreign observers

Congratulations Philippines!

Smartmatic congratulates the COMELEC, the voters, the teachers and election inspectors, the candidates and political parties, PPLIV and all watchers and observers, the AFP, the PNP, the Advisory Council, the Senate and the House of Representatives, the concerned government agencies, the media, our partners and providers, and all those who actively participated to make the 2010 National and Local Automated Elections a success.

The automation in numbers:

For the first time in a national election, the Filipinos received the results in less than 2 hours.

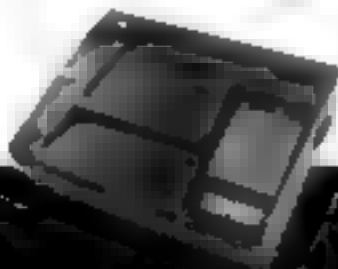

Out of the more than 50 million registered voters, a national average voter turnout of 75%.

50% of the votes were transmitted and tallied the first 2 hours after the polls closed.

Comelec was able to offer a press conference with partial results 2 hours after the polls closed.

Less than 0.80% of the 16,341 PCOS machines that were found cooperative were promptly repaired, well below the acceptable industry standard rates.

Results posted by province, are available on the Internet:

Figure 1. Schematic representation of the experimental design. The subjects were divided into two groups: the control group (n = 10) and the intervention group (n = 10). The control group received a standard physical therapy program, while the intervention group received a physical therapy program with a focus on core stability. The subjects were assessed at baseline, 4 weeks, and 8 weeks. The primary outcome was the change in the Oswestry Disability Index (ODI) score. The secondary outcomes were the change in the Visual Analogue Scale (VAS) score, the change in the Roland-Morris Disability Questionnaire (RMDQ) score, and the change in the EuroQol-5D (EQ-5D) score.

Figure 1 consists of two line graphs, (a) and (b), showing the effect of 100% relative humidity on the growth of E. coli O157:H7. Both graphs plot log CFU (y-axis, 0 to 10) against time in hours (x-axis, 0 to 10). Graph (a) shows a control with a linear increase in log CFU from 0 to 10 over 10 hours. Graph (b) shows a treatment with a sharp increase in log CFU after 4 hours, reaching a plateau around 10 log CFU by 10 hours.

The results of the present study are in line with the findings of other studies that have shown that the use of a mobile phone can lead to a decrease in the number of errors made by drivers. This may be due to the fact that the use of a mobile phone can help drivers to stay focused on the road and avoid distractions.

1. Chlorophyll a and b were determined in the whole cells by the method of Lichtenthaler and Whistler (1973). The total chlorophyll content was determined by the method of Lichtenthaler and Whistler (1973). The chlorophyll a and b contents were determined by the method of Lichtenthaler and Whistler (1973). The chlorophyll a and b contents were determined by the method of Lichtenthaler and Whistler (1973).

Figure 1 is a line graph showing the effect of the concentration of the inhibitor on the rate of polymerization. The x-axis is labeled "Concentration of inhibitor (mole/l)" and ranges from 0 to 0.001. The y-axis is labeled "Rate of polymerization (mole/l·hr)" and ranges from 0 to 0.001. Four curves are shown, labeled 1, 2, 3, and 4. Curve 1 is the highest, followed by 2, 3, and 4. All curves show a decrease in the rate of polymerization as the concentration of the inhibitor increases.

The purse too luxurious that Michelle Obama refused to carry

The handbag is a 'luxury' item, which is why it was not a suitable choice for the first lady. But the purse remains a hallmark of the brand.

The purse too luxurious that Michelle Obama refused to carry

Michelle Obama's choice of handbags has become a topic of discussion. Some have criticized her for carrying expensive, designer bags, while others have praised her for her taste. The First Lady's choice of handbags has been a mix of classic and contemporary styles, reflecting her personal taste and the needs of her role.

Some of the most important factors in the success of a business are the quality of its products and the quality of its customer service. The quality of its products is determined by the quality of its raw materials and the quality of its manufacturing process. The quality of its customer service is determined by the quality of its sales and the quality of its support.

Know the first ladies through their 'ternos'

THE first ladies of the Republic of the Philippines have worn a variety of styles of the traditional Filipino dress, the terno. The terno is a long, flowing dress with a high collar and long sleeves. It is often worn with a shawl or a bolero. The terno is a symbol of Filipino identity and is worn by women of all ages and social classes. The first ladies of the Republic have worn the terno in a variety of styles, from traditional to modern. The terno is a beautiful and elegant dress that is a true reflection of Filipino culture.
